WILL TAXES BE LESS?

Board of Public Works Reduced Current Expense in That Department It is Claimed

Efficient management of the water department, as shown in the annual report being compiled by City Auditor George J. Murray, indicates that during the past year the board of public works reduced the current expense and increased the current receipts with the result that the department made a net gain of about 12,500 over the preceding year. The capable management of this and several other departments during the past year together with a decrease the annual appropriation bill of this year and the increase of real estate valuations would indicate a probable reduction of the city's tax rate. The reduction of the tax rate will come as a source of satisfaction to the heavy real estate holders, who have made a general demand for a small tax levy.

Mr. Murray's report, which will soon be made public together with the reports of other departments, shows that the total receipts of the water department for the year 1912 reached $61-116.08. The receipts of the preceding year totaled $54,821.72. The receipts of last year were exceeded only in 1905, when the high-water mark of $63-251.44 was reached.

The total expense of conducting the water department, last year, was $52-568.57, against $60,148.26 in the preceding year. This expense is approximately $7000 less than in 1905, when the receipts of the department exceeded the receipts last year by only $2000.
As compared with the year 1911, the receipts of last year were $6294.30 higher and the expenses were $6172.69 less, making a joint saving of last year against the previous year of $12,467.05.

The receipts of last year were as follows: Water rates, $58,838.16; services and connections, $1275.15; rents, $237-50; interest, $189.62; miscellaneous, $675; a total receipt of $61,116.08.

The expense of conducting the water department, last year, was as follows:
Office expenses, $3830.75; pumping expenses, $21,363.95; mains and services, $7164.76; extensions and constructions, $829.11; miscellaneous, $14,600; a total of $53,958.57.

This report shows that the water rates increased about $7200 over the another season.

OPEN DOOR TO MEMBERS

President Will Confer With All as He Is the Party Leader --Democrats Busy Over the Tariff

Washington, March 19.—President Wilson will confer frequently with members of the house and senate in the President's room at the Capitol in the course of the extra session of Congress.
This was announced at the White House today.

The President will make himself as accessible as possible to members of Congress on those days when tariff legislation will have reached its most important development. He found while governor of New Jersey that legislation often was expedited by his close communication with the legislature. He made it a practice to be in his own office whenever the legislature was in session day or night, and gave precedence in his engagements to the legislators.

Mr. Wilson will go to the Capitol, it was said at the White House, in a spirit of friendly co-operation, there to consult with democrats and republicans alike on the progress of legislation.

He believes, however, that he should go to the Capitol as party leader. He has always said that the President of the United States was the elected leader of his party and that he particularly was charged by the people with the carrying out of party pledges. Mr.
Wilson believes the tariff bill should be treated as a party measure.

Boston Speed Boys Showing
Midseason Form at Hot Springs, Ark.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 20.—Baseball experts who have watched the Boston Red Sox perform here on the Diamond are of the opinion that the world's champions are in fine condition for the opening of the campaign. This is due to favorable weather conditions and a seven game series with the Pittsburgh Nationals. While the regulars were tackling the Pirates the youngsters were playing their daily practice games. Manager Stahl says that if the team gets off to a good start the Sox will barring accidents capture another pennant. Stahl will not permit Heinie Wagner to play in any of the practice games with the Pittsburghs. Last year Heinie hurt his arm at the spring training camp, which forced him to lay off for some time. Wagner is in good condition and is soon in the daily stunts with the youngsters. Speaker is the waiting kid in the preliminary battles. Ainsworth, the young twirler, according to the critics here, is assured of a regular berth with the Sox. He has shown up well in practice games and given promise of developing into a crack pitcher.

IF CONSTIPATED OR BILIOUS--"CASCARETS"

No Bloating, Headache, Sour Stomach or Constipation

Purged tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Head aches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, and bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing, and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a ten cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing too.

Why Pay Extra for Dried-Up Tobacco?

That's what you do when you buy chopped-up tobacco in a tin, bag or foil wrapping. You pay extra for the package—and get dried-up tobacco that burns fast and hot and bites your tongue.

When you buy Sickle Plug you get more tobacco, because there's no package to pay for. You get better tobacco, because all the flavor and moisture are pressed into the plug, and kept there by the natural leaf wrapper. You whittle a pipeful off the plug as you need it—and you're always sure of fresh tobacco that burns slowly, and smokes cool and sweet.

Convenient and economical. Doesn't crowd your pocket—no tobacco spilled and wasted. Try Sickle today—your dealer sells it.

MORE HEADWAY WITH BILLSHall of Heroes Abolished--Session
But Half Over.

Concord, March 19.—The governor returned today with his veto House Bill 380, an act relating to the employment and pay of court reporters.

Petitions were received, largely signed by Christian Scientists, protesting against the passage of House Bill 303, relating to the practice of medicine, and were referred to the committee on public health.

The committee on revision of the statutes returned House Bill 483, relating to the relief of police officers from duty at certain times with the recommendation ought to pass.

The bill will, if it passes and becomes a law, give the members of the Manchester police department one day off in each fifteen, and, although introduced by a Dover man, applies by the limitations of population to this city only.

The bill carrying an appropriation of $10,000 for the payment of the expenses of the veterans of the civil war in the 50th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, was returned from the committee on appropriations with the recommendation "ought to pass." The bill was sent in last week, with an amendment cutting the appropriation in half. Considerable opposition developed however, and the bill was re-committed.

Mr. Stevens of Landaff introduced the following resolution:

All bills or joint resolutions otherwise reported shall be laid upon the table and shall not be finally acted upon until the following legislative day and a list of such bills or joint resolutions with the report thereon, shall be published in the Journal of the proceedings for the day on which they were reported.

This resolution was passed.

The senate passed the house bill providing for the election of members of the school committee in Manchester. This gives suffrage to women in the election of school committee men.

The house committee on revision of the statutes has virtually cleared its docket of the bills referred to it since the opening of the session. There are but ten measures left and these are in reality taken from the committee from the fact that duplicate measures are in the hands of or have been noted upon by other committees.

A bill was introduced in the house this morning by committee of revision of statutes, authored by Representative Demers of ward 3, in relation to the construction and maintenance of sidewalks in the city of Manchester.

The bill, which was referred to the Manchester delegation, provides that the board of public works in the city of Manchester may construct and grade any sidewalks and complete any partially completed sidewalks in any street of the city, as the public convenience may require, and may cover the same with appropriate material and may assess the abutters on such sidewalks in just proportion, not exceeding one half the expense of the same. The act provides that the assessment shall constitute a lien in the abutting property and also provides that the sidewalks shall be maintained at the expense of the city, a similar bill was introduced two years ago but was killed.

Doorkeeper L. S. Martin has been re-elected member of the school board in Winchester. Mr. Martin's return was practically unanimous in that he received 160 of the 163 ballots cast at the meeting.

The committee on revision of the statutes reported favorably on a new draft of the bill to abolish the Hall of Heroes. The new bill provides that a committee of three be appointed by the governor from the members of the commission to close up the affairs of the commission.

Since the beginning of the legislative session a total of 731 bills has been docketed. Of these 582 are house bills, the house resolutions have reached 100 and there have been 49 senate bills. Of these 94 house bills, 8 senate bills and two joint house resolutions have passed both branches and gone over to the governor for his signature. One hundred and eighty-four house bills, twenty-one house joint resolutions and three senate bills have been put out of commission by the bill killer, making a total of 43 per cent of the whole number introduced.

This on the face of the figures show that the work of the session has not been half completed. In reality, however, the situation is not so bad and although there is a wide difference in opinion, among the members as to the time of final adjournment, matters will be, it is expected, pushed along more smoothly and with greater rapidity from now on. As to the matter of final adjournment, some of the members claim that the work should be cleaned up in at the most three weeks and some of them even go so far as to say that they will not stay in Concord after that date any way. Others claim that the date of the final session be some time in the course of the first week in May, which would make the length of the session exceed that of last year by about twenty days.

MUSICA FAMILY
ARRESTED

male members of which are charged with defrauding New York and European banks of a million dollars, were arrested here today on the steamer Alameda as they were about to sail for Panama.

In the clothes of Antonio Musica and his three sons, George, Arthur, and Philip, the police found $80,000 in currency and from the corpse of Grace Musica, a daughter $18,000 in large bills were extracted. Grace and her sister Louise are held as material witnesses.

When the party was being taken from the wharf to the Central police station, the elder Musica tried to get a revolver from Philip, and when a detective interfered the young man exclaimed:

"No, I will not give it up I am going to kill myself before I get to police headquarters."

It was necessary for the officers to take the woman away from the young man by force.

The party arrived here after a trip through the South during a part of which officers pursued them closely. In Alabama yesterday they were forced to escape in an automobile, leaving the machine at a small town where they boarded a train for New Orleans.

They arrived here this morning and boarded the Alameda, which was due to sail later in the day. A squad of detectives went to the vessel and the fugitives all submitted quietly to arrest. With the exception of Philip they have evidenced no emotion and it was said tonight they would not fight extradition. Tonight all were locked up.

Antonio Musica and his three sons are charged with defrauding banks through irregular dealings as hair goods importers. The father today said the failure of three large foreign hair goods concerns was responsible for his firm's embarrassment. He said his company owed these firms approximately $300,000, which he could not pay so he intended to flee with his family to Panama.

The Musics had seven pieces of baggage. Although the police believe the trunks to contain valuable papers and jewelry, they will not be opened until the arrival of New York detectives.

SHOOTING IN MAYOR'S OFFICE

Mont, apparently demented caused a panic at the city hall today when he entered the mayor's office and opened fire with a revolver on the clerks and a policeman on duty there. Charles A. Lang a member of the police force on special duty who grappled the man was shot four times but probably will recover.

Stefunski had called at the office twice before during the day and asked for Mayor Fuhrmann or his secretary. He left without making known his mission. When he called the third time this afternoon he met Charles Engloff, license clerk, and asked for the mayor. Engloff told him the mayor was out.

"I want $100" said Stefunski. Engloff saw he had a crank to deal with and tried to parley with him. Officer Lang heard the demand and walked toward the two men. The sight of the uniform apparently alarmed Stefunski who stepped back and drew a revolver yelling at the same time:

"I'll get that hundred or know the reason why."

Lang closed in on Stefunski but was unable to pin his right arm in which the infuriated man held the revolver. Stefunski fired five shots four of Lang, all of which lodged in his neck and shoulder, and the fifth at Engloff which went wild.

Weakened by his wounds Lang easily was shaken off by Stefunski, who rushed to the other side of the room and began to reload his revolver. He had difficulty in getting out the empty shells and this probably saved further bloodshed. Lang staggered out into the hallway.

While a deputy sheriff stood at one door of the mayor's office firing a revolver in Stefunski's direction, a detective sergeant, Herman Barnhardt, from the district attorneys office came in another door and rushed Stefunski off his feet. A moment later he was overpowered.

At police headquarters Stefunski several times declared he was an anarchist and that he went to city hall to "shoot 'em all." In his pocket was a curiously worded document which the police regard as further evidence of the man's unbalanced mind. It was written, on the stationery of a Great Falls, Mont., bank and purported to be an offer for $100. Stamped upon it in several places were the words, "Joseph Stefunski, cow puncher," after which was written in ink "big rich man."

Stefunski said he was a native of Poland and before coming here had worked in Geyser, Mont., and Wilkes-barre, Pa.

THE RAID ON THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

From the Meriden, Conn., Morning Record.
The persistent attacks on the New Haven road are bearing bitter fruit. The results of the organized efforts to deprive Mr. Mellin of any cost are tremendously apparent in the steady drop in New Haven stock and the talk of passing or cutting the road's established eight per cent dividend. It's a matter for New England, this game of sandbagging the great railroad system which is so vital to New England's very existence.

Wondering what effect Democratic Tariff legislation will have upon New England industries, the question is of comparatively moment compared with the present plain evidence of a New Haven road wrecking scheme, to be carried forward at any cost by blatant "friends" of the public interest.

FOR CLUB MEMBERS.

Portsmouth Athletic Club Contemplates Erection of Gymnasium.

The Portsmouth Athletic club has under consideration the erection of a new building at the rear of its clubhouse on Court street, to contain both a bowling alley and a gymnasium for the exclusive use of the club members. At the meeting Tuesday night in the club quarters the proposition was formally presented to the members and Vice President Fred H. Marden, acting president of the organization, was authorized to appoint a committee to look into the feasibility, both from a financial and social viewpoint. Mr. Marden said that he would appoint the committee this week.

Several methods of construction were suggested. It was said that the club could finance the construction of a concrete, two-story building. The lower floor would contain a set of bowling alleys for the members and the upper story would contain a gymnasium, fitted up with all modern equipment for the development of the body and for the playing of indoor games, and could be used at times for the socialists of the club. It was suggested that one story could be erected this summer and that the upper story could be built at any time the exigencies of the club demanded more room or when the financial strain would be smaller. In the event of constructing a one-story building, the alleys could be arranged so that they could be covered and thus provide space for the assemblies.

THE SEASON OPENS.

Young Shamrocks Defeat the Y. M. B. Jr. 7 to 5.

Well, would you believe that the base ball season had opened in this city? Such, however, seems to be an assured fact. This morning the Herald office was invaded with a delegation of young boys who approached the sporting editor in this manner: "Say, Mister, will you put this in the paper for us?" We naturally supposed it was another wrestling challenge, and cautiously inquired what they wanted to appear in the paper. Imagine our astonishment when the spokesman said: "We want to let the people know that the Young Shamrocks defeated the Y. M. B. Jr. 7 to 5 on the Almshouse field this morning." Further inquiry revealed the fact that it was a real, live base ball game and Rivals and Regan were the star artists for the Young Shamrocks, while the McDonald brothers acted in a like capacity for their opponents. You can't keep young America from following his favorite game.

GRANITE STATE ADVANCING IN EDUCATION

The movement for vocational education in this country is now in full swing and the Granite state is not behind in the movement. Six states have already set up systems in vocational education, Massachusetts and Connecticut are the 'New England states, and a bill is now before the Hampshire legislature providing assistance to local authorities in introducing courses in agriculture and the domestic and mechanic arts. The high schools of Alton, Colebrook, Hopkinton, Jefferson, Walpole, and Whitefield have strong courses in agriculture and on March 15 the school district of Alton voted to build a greenhouse in connection with this course and raised $1000 for the purpose. Cole's academy at Northwood and Pinkerton academy, Derry, have been at work on these lines for several years.

Berlin and Concord high schools have the mechanic and domestic art courses, while the latter is in the program at Alton, Colebrook, Lancaster, St. Mary's school, Concord, and Robinson seminary, Exeter.

At the school meetings recently held at Antrim, Peterborough and Salem, money was raised for the introduction of these courses. Salem has no high school, so the elementary schools will take it up. The beginning of the fall term will see a large number of other schools starting out on this work. The high schools of Dover and Portsmouth will be among them.

The bill which makes supervision universal in New Hampshire was unanimously reported from the educational committee of the house and is now before the committee on appropriations.

Supt. Henry C. Morrison was in Rochester the week of March 9 investigating local conditions, and has returned there this week for two days further work.

The little town of Berol way up in the northeastern part of the state, on the Maine border, and over twenty miles from the railroad, is one of the most progressive towns educationally in New Hampshire. This town is under supervision, having been for several years in a district with Colebrook. At the annual school meeting last week the district voted to establish a high school to build up-to-date barge for transportation of school children, and raised over 100 per cent more money for schools than ever before.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET
Curiosities of Cubism May Be Displayed in Boston.—What Effect the Horrors Have Upon a Custodian.—Duke and Duchess Like New England So Well That They May Come To Live There.—Free Legal Advice Is a Late Harvard Wrinkle.—Law Students Do the Advising and Poor People Get the Benefit.—Five and Ten Cent Grand Opera Is Proposed for Franklin Park By Boston's Indefatigable Mayor.

Boston, March 21, 1913.—Alexander Pope, the Boston portrait and animal painter, tells a story about the post-impressionist show which has just gone from New York to Chicago. Mr. Pope was standing in a throng of people looking at the curious pictures, when a woman near him turned to the custodian and said playfully: "You poor man among these horrors all day long. What do you do for a relief when you get out of here?" The custodian replied solemnly and confidentially, "I take a drink madam." The picture which caused this conversation are expected to be shown in Boston, though it has not been definitely decided as yet. Presumably the visitors will attend well fortified for the ideal.

The Hub's Royal visitors have departed, waving fond adieux and threatening to return to take up a permanent residence here. Duke and Duchess Little sailed from Boston with only complimentary things to say of the Boston city, and the avowed intention of coming back as soon as the multifarious business duties of the Duke can be settled. The Duchess Little is an American girl, and her husband takes delight in pointing out that theirs is one international marriage, which has proved a success. Like most foreign visitors of literary ability Duke Little expects to write a book about us, but he says it will be very complimentary as a general rule. The principal object of his visit to America was to give a series of lectures on such interesting subjects as "The Gentle Art of Poisoning," "The History of Kissing," and others. The dual pair made a host of friends while in the Hub and should they return would be welcomed by many.

Boston's indefatigable Mayor is now now considering their proposition of erecting a collapsible stage in Franklin Park for the purpose of furnishing municipal grand opera at popular prices. Five and ten cents will pay for seats at the best grand opera productions, as it has done in several European cities. Should the plans be found practicable the stage will be constructed on the Playstead, and high class performances will be given for the benefit of thousands. Should the expense be found to be slight, the performance will be given free. Thus a new plan is under way for the further popularization of Boston's park system, and especially of Franklin Park. The vast track whose possibilities are unappreciated by many of the residents of the city. Honey Fitz is an advocate in this direction and is already responsible for many innovations in the line of recreation and municipal entertainment for the public benefit.

Free legal advice to the public is a unique plan introduced by the Harvard Legal Aid Bureau in Cambridge. Twenty five of the best students of the Harvard Law school will give their services in drawing up papers and defending clients in court, this without charge to the client where the cases are found to be worthy of aid. The plan is being conducted under the auspices of the Phillips Brooks Home at Harvard Law School, and the executive society will have general charge over the 25 young men. In this way much good work will be done for people in moderate circumstances, and many victims saved from unscrupulous or third class lawyers. Incidentally

The students will be gaining valuable training in court work and fitting themselves for a larger field. Where cases seem to be beyond the experience of the students, they will be referred to reputable lawyers in regular practice.

The Boston girls are watching with interest the outcome of the proposed legislation in Ohio restricting and prescribing the fashions to be worn by women in that state. This proposal is that the Governor shall appoint a commission to govern the dress of women, and urges that transparent hose, low cut necks, and lace and other open work of transparent trimmings, shall be prohibited. The Boston girls find it difficult to find herself in the annual July hot spell with high neck long sleeved waist, of a material heavy enough not to show the color of the flesh, and with stockings of the same weight, and texture. It is doubted by many if the styles of the past few years which have tended to a more hygienic, comfortable and sane existence throughout the hot season will readily give way to the rigid rules of the proposed legislation in Ohio. This same bill makes a provision against allowing department stores to display undraped artificial figures. It almost sounds like something that might happen in Boston where Bacchante and the poor unruly such an excitement.

STREET CAR WITH BUGLE CALL.
Haverhill Veteran Has Carried Out Practice for Many Years
Blowing a bugle to greet the first trolley that passes his house in the morning is the strange daily custom of Gilman P. Parker, a Civil war veteran of Haverhill.

He says he has no particular reason for beginning this maulous custom, which he has followed for 15 years, after he got started that the boys demanded its continuance. Rather than disappoint his blue garmented friends of the trolley line, Mr. Parker has put himself many times to considerable personal inconvenience, determined that they should not miss this morning music.

The first car goes past Mr. Parker's house at about twenty minutes past six in the morning. Mr. Parker is however an early riser, and he has been up and about his chores long before the car puts in an appearance over the hill.

"Yes it was 15 years ago that I first appeared with my bugle," exclaimed Mr. Parker reminiscence. "I did it as a joke but the car crew and passengers gave me such a cheer and seemed so pleased that the next morning and the next, I did likewise, keeping it up until it became a habit."

"Now I'd hate to quit, because I know they expect it."

A few weeks ago Mr. Parker had an illness which continued for several days. The conductor and motorman of the first car on the first day of his illness were very much perturbed when they found that he did not appear with his bugle. They listened in vain for the notes. They could not understand where he was. So the motorman put on the brakes and went to the Parker house.

They tendered their condolences on learning of his illness, and soon after his convalescence the street railway employees tendered him a large American flag as a token of appreciation.

This was a very appropriate gift as Mr. Parker participated in several of the fiercest battles of the Civil war, as an officer of Company F, 12th Massachusetts regiment.

"The reveille is about the only one of the bugle calls of the Civil war that has not changed said Mr. Parker. The calls, I might explain are still sounded as they were then, but in every case I think, except the one I have mentioned their significance has changed."

Mr. Parker was born in Westford, in a house which was the birthplace of nine men who fought in the Civil War. Of these five are now dead. He is at present living in a house out of which he moved 23 years ago to occupy a new house on an adjoining site.

Next week promises to be a big week socially.

CUPID'S STEAMSHIP IS ON WAY AROUND WORLD

Los Angeles, March 19.—"Cupid's steamship" is now the name given to the Cleveland, which is now making a trip around the world, and which has on board many prominent easterners.

That Dan Cupid is taking great pleasure in the voyage, and is well supplied with all the implements of his warfare, is very evident by the number of engagements that have been announced since the ship started on his cruise. Dan's marksmanship has been exceedingly good as one couple have already trod the aisles while others are at the formative stage.

The wedding that has taken place is that of Mrs. H. M. Valentine, a wealthy Trenton woman, to R. W. Pillsbury, owner and editor of the Manchester, N. H. Union. New Hampshire's leading paper. Mr. Pillsbury, also a number of years ago, was candidate for governor. He has been a widower a year and a half. Before Mr. Pillsbury went on the trip, he was a candidate for the United States senate, but says that now as he has again entered matrimony, he has cast politics from his mind, leaving there only the thought of his present happiness.

On board the Cleveland, there are 47 widows, and, strange to say, an equal number of widowers and bachelors. Before the trip is finished they may all be married.

BASKETBALL

The Y. M. C. A. Intermediates won a fast game from the Berwick Academy team at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening in a game which was characterized by quick passing and clever shooting of baskets. This in a measure dulled the sting of defeat received at the hands of the Berwick team at Berwick some weeks ago. The passing of the Intermediates was a feature of the game in which Glyson, Massey, Conover and Rutledge excelled, while Holland excelled in shooting baskets. At times the passing of the Berwick team was very noticeable.

The game between a picked team from the Student class and the Business mens class caused a great deal of fun for the spectators. It was one of the fast games that the students have played against this season. Both teams played fast and at times they were seen on all fours. The gunning of both teams was good thus making it difficult for either team to pile up the score. Pierce and Davis excelled for the Business Men, while Thayer, Quirk and Badger tossed the pill to good advantage for the Students. The summary:

INCREASING WORKING FORCE

Baker Shoe Company Constantly Enlarging Plant.

The Roland Baker Shoe Company is rapidly increasing their working force, and are planning for still greater extension. At the present just the second floor of the old machine shop is occupied by the shoe factory and between 70 and 80 people employed.

Arrangements are being made to occupy the first floor recently vacated by the Eliory Twist Drill Co., and it is hoped that the plant in a few months will be capable of turning out 2000 pairs of shoes a day.

Adults, children and infant shoes are being made, and the plant is rapidly getting in shape.

NOTES OF THE FIRE

The fire early Wednesday morning, with the two alarms brought out a great crowd of people, but the police did not have very much to do, as the crowd were satisfied to remain on the McDonough street side.

The flames lighted up the sky for miles around, and it was this illumination that brought out the people, for it looked as though the whole town was burning down.

The fire was so enclosed that it was like a big stove with the top off, the

ENGLAND WINDS UP PERUVIAN COMPANY

London, March 19.—The Chancery Court today ordered the compulsory winding up of the Peruvian Amazon Company, in regard to which a select committee of the British Parliament carried out an investigation of the terrible treatment of the natives employed in the rubber fields.

In this connection Sir Roger Casement British consul general at Rio Janeiro, gave evidence as to the outrages for which, he said, the Arana Brothers were responsible.

The action taken by the court today removes Julius Caesar Arana from the position which he held as liquidator of the company.

In an affidavit contesting the application to remove him, Arana who was in court, declared that the Indians of the Putumayo District were cannibals, who resisted the advance of civilization.
